

Integrated Art Director

It's all about the idea!

We're looking for an inspired and confident art director with strong experience both online and off with a commitment to generate fresh 'wow factor' ideas whatever they're working on. We believe great ideas translate across all media.

If you have 2 to 3 years agency experience and you'd like the opportunity to really show what you're made of, we could be for you. You'll have the chance to work both independently and as part of the wider creative team - possibly taking the creative lead on projects.

Check out our website to see exactly what we do and the top clients we do it for.

If your portfolio demonstrates a broad spectrum of original digital and offline creative thinking and you're blessed with solid mac design skills, then it's time we got to know you.

Email today attaching your CV to chris.arden@outsidethebox.co.uk with an indication of your remuneration expectations.
